What is a portable solar charger?

A portable solar charger is used to power your device when you're away from power outlets. We took this into account when we chose to weight direct solar charging speed the heaviest in our testing metrics. It's also no surprise that some of our highest-scoring panels in this metric were chargers with the largest capacity.

Which solar charger should I buy?

The Goal Zero nomad 2 has everything you might need in a solar charger: high wattage, an abundance of USB ports and a business-like folding design and the leading monocrystalline panel type. For mains-style power output on demand, the Ecoflow portable power station and 220W panel is highly recommended.

How much does a portable solar charger cost?

Specifically for this buyer's guide, we conducted online research and identified over a dozen portable solar chargers ranging in price from $30 to $649. After careful consideration, we narrowed down the candidates to a handful that we tested in real-world conditions.

Are portable solar chargers a good idea?

Portable solar chargers don't have this problem, and as long as the proper conditions are met, they can provide a practically unlimited supply of electricity for your mobile devices, flashlights and battery packs or portable chargers. Compact and lightweight, they're perfect for camping, travel and emergency use.

How many Watts should a portable solar charger charge?

Once you get an idea of charging capacity and your intended use for a portable solar charger, it's time to figure out what devices you plan on using. For smaller handheld items such as smartphones, a portable solar charger with five to fifteen watts should suffice.

Can I use a solar panel to charge my devices?

Or, even better, use your solar panel to charge an external battery (or portable power station) designed to receive solar input, such as the GoalZero Sherpa 100AC power bank we tested, and then use that battery to charge your devices safely. Scott Tharler is a Contributing Editor at Gear Junkie.
